

Message of Encouragement By The Mayor

Firstly let me take this opportunity and congratulate you for reaching this far, it was not an easy journey but it was worth the ride. Today you are considered a special breed, for you are candidate of what we call it socio-academic transition, where one uses their academics to change their social status. Where you stand right now your decisions, will either make you or brake you, so you need to be smart when you prepare for the exams, as they are your entry point to reaching greater heights.

Let me borrow from Madiba's fountain of wisdom when he said '... Education is the most powerful weapon which you can change the world...' these wise words talk to you as you prepare to write your final examination, it talks to the amount of efforts you need to put in your studies and the things to do during this tricky times in your academic life.

Mr. Nelson R. Mandela further says "...when a man is denied the right to live the life he believes in, he has no choice but to become an outlaw..." these words also propels us as the government close to you to ensure that we provide you with necessary support to ensure you reach the life you envisage. We are here for you, should you need any form of assistance, we have a community library open to all and we wish to invite you to use it as part of your resource center to sharpen your future.

In closure let me close by also borrowing from the fountain of Madiba's wisdom and say "... I learned that courage was not the absence of fear, but the triumph over it..." I know most of you are afraid and feel defeated for you have tried everything to pull through and still did not make it, let me say this to you today; that you are smart, wise, beautiful and most of it all you're a victor. Through courage and confidence, you will triumph at the end of the day, your fears and sorrows will be a tail to laugh about in future.

Congratulations once more for reaching this far and would love to wish you the best of luck in your final stage and we say this is just the beginning.

Good luck and we wish you all the best of luck.
